

2011 TACCLD Scholarship Application

The Transition and Communication Consortium on Learning Disabilities (TACCLD) will be awarding five scholarships, $1,000 each. High school students who have applied to post-secondary programs are eligible to be nominated for this scholarship. The student may have applied to a trade school, two or four year college or any other setting that provides formal training and education. The scholarship may be used for payment of tuition, books, or supplies. (Please note...this will be the last year for the TACCLD scholarship.)

Eligibility

The nominee must be a high school student with a learning disability or ADD/ADHD who is applying to post-secondary institutions and is a resident of Ohio. This is a statewide award.

Criteria for Award

A committee will review all nominations and will choose the recipient based on the student's academic record, career goals, and compensation for his/her disability. Students who have planned realistically and are most likely to benefit from the award will be given the most serious consideration.

Documentation (all materials must be typed except application form)

Please submit 4 copies (as a packet for each reader of the scholarship committee) of the following materials:

1. TACCLD Scholarship Application Form (below – please print clearly)
2. High school transcript (only one official and 3copies)
3. Two letters of support from teachers, guidance counselors, employers, etc.
4. Any newspaper clippings, examples of work, or anything that shows the student's achievement
5. A typed or taped essay developed by the student that addresses each of the following:
  - a. Career goals
  - b. Why a particular post-secondary setting was chosen
  - c. Plans for compensating for the disability in the post-secondary setting
